

The skills you need, where you need them.

With “boots on the ground” and a mindset aligned with the head-office, R-05 Group distills years of real-world experience into a team and network of the most skilled resources that support local mining operations. We deploy almost anywhere in the world and our ability to quickly mobilize and ‘embed’ into operations allows our clients to scale local project resources up and down as required - without the cost, business interruption or limitations of re-deploying talent from their own ‘roster’. We work across the full spectrum of project types & technically skilled-disciplines & get the people you need to the places you need them to be.

For us – and our clients – it’s all about maximizing project value.

We are an unparalleled team of skilled technical talent and project management professionals who can be mobilized to support projects across every resource, terrain, condition, climate, political environment, and culturally sensitive region where you work - and we engage. We know that efficient operations are nimble and allow our partners the most effective way to scale up and down as the situation determines the need and the project defines the duration.

We are mining industry experts and allow our partners to scale operations up and down by sourcing, deploying and embedding highly-skilled talent in local operations across multi-disciplinary teams and projects.

Project Management

Planning

Work Packages

Construction Supervision

Quality Control

Commissioning

Asset Integrity

Our mobilization & global deployment of technical resources & project management experts, protocols & technologies allows project scopes & embedded teams to seamlessly expand and contract as situation determines the need & the project defines the duration.

Our experience. Your solution.

Our approach is simple. We believe in the unwavering requirement to be earning real value with every step and every decision in the enablement – and evolution – of each project that we are engaged in.

The strength of a company isn't just in its products, but in the operating pillars that hold its vision aloft.

We truly partner with our clients and approach each of those challenges with the same four guiding principles that form the foundation of our service model. We firmly believe that “Pillars in place mean projects with purpose” and these four tenets comprise the backbone of every R-05 Group engagement.

Global reach with local accountability allows R-05 Group to deliver for our clients anytime, anywhere.

The “where, what, or when” of a project may sound simple – but the specifics of each ultimately determine the resourcing requirements that will ‘make or break’ its intended. R-05 Group understands this and is able to source and locally deploy ‘expertise on demand’ for short and long term engagements that often demand the most skilled, technical and experienced human capital within the industry.

SHRM

BY R05 GROUP

Great projects rely on great people.

Enter Strategic Human Resource Mobilization (sHRm). Great projects rely on great people, and getting the right experts to the right places at the right time. For this, the mining industry can rely on Strategic Human Resource Mobilization (SHRM) by R-05 Group.

In-Demand Disciplines & Job Types

- » HSE & Oversight Personnel
- » Project managers
- » Planners
- » Construction & Site Superintendents
- » Commissioning Personnel
- » Highly-specialized Skills Deployment

SHRM applies a multi-faceted, mosaic approach to collecting and evaluating the criteria that will determine the best-fit candidates for individual roles, conditions, objectives, and timelines.